News From Your TOWN HALL

Little Doe has been appointed a committee to discover, devise and install a street numbering system in the Town of Belle Glade.

The citizens thank the Commission, the citizens mothers thank you; their children thank you; their grandmothers thank you; and other miscellaneous folk would thank you if they were here and thought of it.

As a suggestion to Little Doe and the Boy Scouts: No one here has any loose numbers, or if they do, they're wrong. Why not let the larger Scouts study the system of some of the larger towns, secure the endorsement of the own Commission, obtain the numbers, plain, embossed and fancy and canvass the houses to sell and/or fasten up the numbers.

There's a substantial amount of lard for the boys who work it out and certainly the troop would benefit financially from the afternoon and Saturday effort—and just think how many people will thank you.

There was some hitch in the delivery of the bonds and acceptance of the $8000 bond, but it is all buttoned up and the transaction will be completed sometime soon.

On Monday the contract for the laying of the pipe to the Canal and the improvements to the existing water plant will be let and it is expected that the pipe will be on the ground within 30 days.

The Phipps interests which are considered shrewd municipal bond purchasers own near 50 per cent of the recently issued bonds. A close student of the Glades and its progress, and a heavy owner of Glades lands, as well as East Coast real estate, the Phipps purchase is a straw in the wind of financial stability of the community.

The issuance of future bonds—and seeing Santa Claus there must be more bonds for a growing community—Maybe we should find an outlet that is substantial.

Local Building And Loan Official Given Committee Appointment

Hugh J. Bratley of the Everglades Federal Savings & Loan Association received word today of his appointment to the United States Savings and Loan League's Committee on Building Practice. W. M. Brooks, Building League president of the League, who notified him of the assignment, indicated that this committee has one of the most important jobs in the nation of this year. Since WPB Order L-41 nationwide trade organization restricting the building of crowded tenement houses in crowded war areas was given out in April three years ago, building practice has been a rare phase of savings and loan activity, and the development in the war housing picture make it necessary for these institutions all over the country to study the mechanics of financing and other phases of building practice in preparation for the postwar home building. League created this year to meet load. This new committee of the special responsibility of organizations which ordinarily finance one-half of the one-family home built in the United States.

The committee work in the League this year will be especially emphasized because of the cancellation of the major large meetings of the business in connection with the ODT request. All of the regular spring meetings under auspices of the United States League have been called in view of the transportation and crowded hotel situation.

RDB Campaign Goes Over Successfully In One Day Campaign

Though it is the last to put on a campaign the Belle Glade Community, including South Bay and Lake Harbor, has gone over top in numbers of members and in the money quota of $25,000 in a campaign conducted under the direction of J. C. Slick, Chairman of the drive.

Ralph Blank, Manager of the Belle Glade Community, assisted in the campaign.

Thirty local men breakfasted together Tuesday morning and in the effort to get the word out a number of cards and began the one-day campaign, which resulted in going over the top.

The community's record over the 500 mark when all the cards are counted.

The Board has been very active in the effort to get the word out and in the effort to get the word out.

Roads, a major question for the Glades, has been very systematically studied, first by local groups with recommendations to the county group.

The over-all Committee will, in turn, take the community's recommendations and weigh the importance to the whole county and then in turn adopt a list of projects in order of their importance and efforts of the entire county will be put to work to get them accepted and the work done in the order of that importance.

Coordination and cooperative efforts rather than spotted efforts by committees with resultant bickerings, is the job being done by the RDB Road Committee.

Many other questions, among which is water control, are being studied by the Committees and commencing at each community so that a well-thought-out plan, considering everyone's problems will be evolved and fought for.

Mr. Blankman says "We thank this community for responding to this effort. Distinctively, it is an effort to help ourselves and I am sure you will result in more coordinated thought and action than we have seen in the Glades before."

Your Red Cross faces its greatest task!

Keep your Red Cross at his side. Never was this more important than today. Long after swords have been beaten into plowshares the Red Cross will have much work to do. Even after the last gun has been fired, many a month will pass before all our fighting men are home. Some will be confined in hospitals for long periods of recovery. Traditional Red Cross service for these men who have sacrificed so much must be continued unabated. It is a sacred obligation delegated to your Red Cross. No less sacred is the obligation to stand by with all necessary aid while veterans of this war, now being returned to civil life, adjust themselves to new conditions, prepare to take their rightful places in field and factory. The welfare of the families of our men in uniform, their wives and children, their aged parents, must be guarded to see they do not suffer want in these trying times. The refugees and orphans of war will also need help.

Bee Fleming's Organization Ready To Go On Tuesday and Wednesday Of Next Week

With Mrs. Theo Dooley as assistant at Belle Glade, Bill Allen, as South Bay chairman, Mrs. John L. Evans, as Beach City and Mutt Thomas and Roy Layfield as Lake Harbor chairmen, Mrs. Bee Fleming is calling a meeting tonight of her Campaign Committee at eight o'clock at her home to complete plans for a whirlwind campaign of two days.

The Belle Glade Community quota this year is the same as last year, the increase in the budget for the county being absorbed by West Palm Beach.

It is interesting to note that over the 500 mark when all the cards are counted. The Board has been very active in the effort to get the word out and in the effort to get the word out.

SERVICE MEN who FIGHT and WRITE

Finally got in and shot out the remaining Japs, we found the people almost naked and half starved. It is a pitiful sight to see the little children running around in that condition. The people gave us a big welcome when we made this last invasion, even sang "God Bless America." I am writing this in a fox hole as that is where we spend most of our time. Am a machine gunner now.

Water Commissioner Heavily Bonded Under Charter Provision

Mr. W. P. Risk, as Treasurer, in order to handle the new money secured from the sale of the water bonds, is being put under a $300,000 bond, which is forty-one times the required bond for the City Collectors and Clerk of Court of Palm Beach, Dade, Hillsboro, Duval or Pinellas counties.

This freak provision was brought to light by the bond attorneys who pointed out that it only reason they were requiring this is because the charter provides that the Treasurer be bonded for the face amount of any bonds issued.

Previous bonding attorneys have passed this by, but the validating opinion on the current bonds asks for compliance with the charter.

Bonding in such proportions—full 100 per cent—is not customary. A slip of the pen, or type writer, or a blank moment by the attorney drafting the charter is the cause of this.

It can be eliminated by a lot of fool-rod and red tape.

Lions Club Announces Completion of Courts

At the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club, it was announced by President DeHaven that the tennis courts have been marked off and nets installed and the courts are now ready for players. It was pointed out that cotton nets are now difficult to obtain and the operation of the children in caring for them will be greatly appreciated.

Funds for these courts were raised jointly by the Lions and Rotary Clubs and matched by the City Fathers, and made possible by the liberal donations from the public.

Forty-six members were present and the cast of the show, "Fun and Games," was introduced by President DeHaven. They were Mrs. Lawrence Bessant, Mrs. Bryant McLeod, Miss Louise Taylor, Mrs. Elsie Hayden, and Dick Lefk, who gave a short talk on the "dangerous hazards of impersonating a woman, and the difficulty time he encountered in attempting to identify himself in feminine apparel."

Mr. Allan, treasurer, gave a financial report on the show which was very encouraging and thanked the members and guests who had helped in the effort to make the play a success.

Other guests present were Geo. Belk, Carmen Salvatore and Elsie Carlton of Ft. Pierce and Benny Wells.

Fifteen golfers from Clewiston will play an equal number of the local boys and girls here on Sunday afternoon at the Country Club of the Everglades.

More than 150 Red Cross nurses' aides have been trained in this county, alleviating a serious shortage of medical personnel. Reporting daily to four civil and military hospitals, aides perform the less technical hospital duties, leaving regular nurses free for administering medical and treatment.

Work with victims was typical of service rendered.

Service in Military Hospitals To protect the morale of sick and wounded servicemen, Red Cross maintains a special staff in Army general and Naval hospitals here and abroad. Medical and psychiatric social and recreational workers help war-shocked patients back to mental stability during their physical recuperation.

William (Bill) Frame, Aviation Machine's Mate of the Navy, writes: "I wish to inform you of my new address at the Naval Air Training Station in Pensacola. Have been receiving the paper for over a year and certainly do appreciate it. I hope to continue with it as it keeps me in touch with my buddies who are also in the Service, where they are and how they are doing. Also everything in the old home town. For the last few months it has been hard time keeping up with me, but believe I will be stationed here now for some time."

Junior Growers Offered Awards

Florida growers between the ages of 12 and 21 are eligible to compete for $6,000 in awards in the production-marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association, it was announced today.

Outlining how boys and girls could share in the scholarship awards provided in the nationwide contest by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Donald Mowbray of Terre Haute, Ind., president of the Junior Growers and J. F. Williams, Jr., supervisor of the production-marketing contest for Florida and chairman for the contest in the state, joined in stressing the need for efficient production and marketing.

"Just as we have had to employ efficient methods to increase production," Williams reported, "it will be essential for tomorrow's vegetable growers to know what to grow, how to grow it and how to market it in quality produce. Winners in the 1944 contest of our association proved that better methods

Cigarettes Cost More Than Electric Service
The American public spends almost 50 per cent more on cigarettes than on electric service. According to figures published recently by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the gross revenues of the six largest cigarette manufacturers in the United States in 1943 totaled $1,553,032,000. During the same period the revenues received by all American electric utilities—privately owned and publicly-owned—for residential and farm service totaled $1,100,000,000, or nearly half a billion dollars less than the receipts of the cigarette manufacturers.

Will Draft Board Collect Union Dues?
Without going into the merits or demerits of the labor draft, the shocking fact is that under the proposed law, after a man was drafted he would be forced to join a labor union before he could work in any industry. As the Portland Oregonian very pointedly says, the measure "should be called the 'right or join the union bill,' though of course there will be the alternative of going to jail."

Is the Federal government to become the official recruiting headquarters for the labor unions? It will be a terrible blow to personal liberty in the United States if Congress passes legislation that forces a man to join an organization against his wishes—political, labor or religious—and pay for so joining before he can work, in compliance with a government order.

No Immunity
For some reason there is an inclination to view private concerns which happen to be known as "public utilities," in a different light than other private industries. The electric industry is a public utility, but it is also a private industry with all the problems of any other private industry. In its current struggle to defeat encroaching government ownership of electric power production, it is fighting a battle in which the welfare of every private enterprise is closely involved. If tax-exempt government competition can be used to destroy a private electric company, it can be used to destroy the business of a shirt manufacturer. The fact that the former may be classed as a public utility, while the latter is not, makes little difference in the basic issue. It is easy enough to declare an industry a public utility—Argentina recently declared gambling a public utility.

When government launches a campaign against industry, no company, no individual, is immune. If this had been better understood during the past few years, the government power plants in the "utility" field would have made little headway.

Chains Encourage Producer Efficiency
Chain store critics occasionally claim that the buying methods of the chains tend to force down prices paid producers, especially in the food field. It is hard to reconcile this claim with the report in a leading chain store publication to the effect that food chains want to organize producer co-operatives. The chains, it added, believe that producer co-ops offer greater assurance of standard grades and condition, a saving in commissions, better facilities for icing and cooling, better packaging, and a medium for carrying "educational" programs to growers in the ever advancing field of conditioning and handling of vegetables for market.

The producer co-op does all of these things. It also gives the farmer an effective bargaining agent for the sale of his produce, which assures him a fair price. If the chains generally were not in the habit of paying fair prices to producers, they could hardly be expected to encourage the producer co-op.

Settle Surrender Terms Now
In a few weeks the perennial problem of a contract for the nation's coal miners will be due to bloom. Inasmuch as wartime strikes dictate the settlement terms of current labor controversies, the following editorial from the Baltimore Sun is especially timely: "The steel industry has asked Mr. John L. Lewis to present his terms for a new coal contract as soon as possible. The present contract lapses on March 31, and the steel men well know that Mr. Lewis's men 'do not work without a contract.' Hence they want to get a new contract negotiated long before Mr. Lewis's men feel it necessary to strike. For a coal strike now, with coal supplies at new lows, would cripple the war industry."

"Actually, however, it is not primarily the steel men who ought to be getting ready to do business with Mr. Lewis. It is the government men who handle war labor relations. The question of contract terms in coal always ends up in the government labor tribunals. And the government labor tribunals, after striking attitudes of great firmness in opposition to Mr. Lewis always end up by surrendering to him—after his men have struck."

"What we suggest this year is that the government work terms of its surrender to Mr. Lewis before Mr. Lewis feels it necessary to strike. In 1941, after all, the government denied to Mr. Lewis the universal closed shop in coal, and then contrived to deliver it to him after his men had struck. In 1943 the government denied to Mr. Lewis a $2-a-day wage increase in coal —and then contrived to deliver it to Mr. Lewis after his men had struck.

"Surely, with increased experience in the field, the government really ought to be able to handle the thing a little more lightly this time. Surely the are of economic planning by government has now advanced to the point where the surrender to Mr. Lewis can be planned before, rather than after, the war industries have been threatened by a general strike in coal."

Blowing Our Capital
Too much credit for the performance of medicine on the battlefield has gone to new discoveries such as penicillin and the sulfa drugs. The miraculous medical record in this war could not have been attained without drugs or no wonder drugs, but for the character of training received by thousands of doctors prior to Pearl Harbor. It could not be attained by the trainging which our military policy permits at the present time. "Courses have been shortened so that doctors being sent overseas as replacements are only 'half trained' in the opinion of one very good authority who should know what he is talking about. That authority is Dr. Everts A. Graham, Professor of Surgery at Washington University School of Medicine, in St. Louis. He was a major in the Army Medical Corps, in World War I. He is a past president of the American College of Surgeons and was a member of a committee appointed by the Secretary of War in 1942 to study the medical needs of the Army."

In describing the way the Army has drawn on qualified medical personnel without providing for adequate replacements, Dr. Graham states: "We have been spending our capital. It would be more precise to say that we have blown it in all at once. Except for the physically disqualified, there are practically no young men outside of the armed forces who have had the training equal to that which those have had who are making it possible for the Surgeon General of the Army to extol the splendid record being accomplished. . . ."

"In defense of their policy which wrecks the plan of educating medical specialists, the Army and Navy have stated that the war has made it necessary to interrupt the program of civilian training in all fields, and they call attention to the similar destruction of the previous civilian educational plan for the training of engineers. But is this parallel a good one? We can get along for a period of years, as we always do during wartime, without new bridges, new roads, new buildings. But there is no moratorium on sickness and death."

We cannot continue to expect miracles from the medical profession if we do not permit rising young doctors the time to get the best training that science can provide.

CINEMATIC CHAPTER

By Malcolm Millar
There is a loney of a comedy to be served on the Everglades Theatre this coming Sunday and Monday with the showing of "Bride by Mistake" with Alan Marshall, Laraine Day, Marsha Hunt, Allyn Joslyn and others who assist in the hilarity.

Here's the sort of romantic comedy that involves a wealthy "poor little rich Cinderella" in the sparkling situations of the story takes tantalizing turns of hilarity and plunges four busy people with conflicting motivations into the triangle of a rare romance wished upon a warring heires.

Tuesday-Wednesday brings a comedy that is really a Sunday show, but it got in here some way or other and you're going to yell your heads off at this wonderful thing entitled "Her Primitive Man" which stars and features Louise Albritton, Robert Paige, Robert Benchley, Edward Everett Horton, Fredrick, Walter Catlett and Ernest Truex. These seven laugh-lappy, road-saving stars certainly do a swell job in making this one of the funniest shows on record.

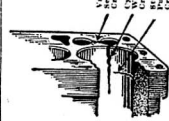

On the same program comes the laster side entitled "Hoosier Holiday" which stars Dale Evans, George Bryon, Emma Dunn and Thurston Hall, with a lot of lesser lights lending ing to the book. In this one Al Pierce, Dale Evans, Frank Albritton and a host of "names" from the air waves are listed, with the whole thing a conglomerate mass of songs, music and comedy that "jelled" into a very entertaining piece.

Saturday Roy Rogers comes in with his gang in the piece "The Man From Music Mountain." This is a re-issue of a picture that was considered a loser of a Western in its time, so I'm sure you're going to enjoy

Early Calves Urged By Experiment Station

The State extension division warns cattlemen about the scarcity of good bulls and the necessity for good feeding and care for 90 days previous to breeding.

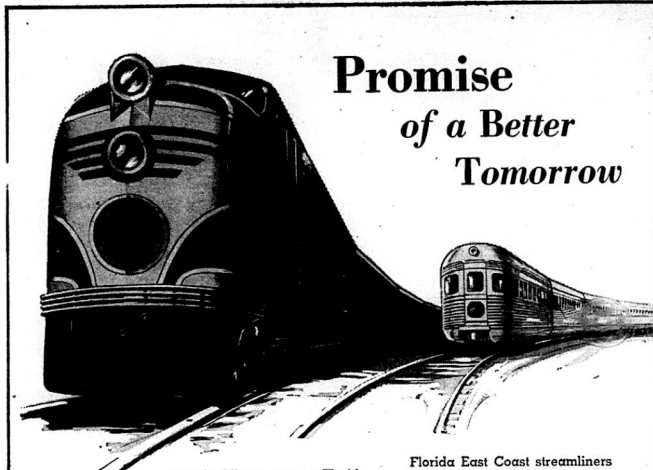

"Early spring calves have the advantage over late spring and summer calves," Dr. Sheely says. Continuing "Early calves escape screwworm infestation, have the advantage of a full year's growth of grass, and are large enough for the summer market to be sold as fat calves or stockers, attain heavier weights by weaning time, and can be wintered on rough feeds. Whereas late summer calves suffer from screwworm infestation, fail to attain sufficient weight for summer fat calf market, are too small to wean before winter, this results into a bunch of long-haired woolly stunted calves. Controlled breeding season determines when calves will be dropped. Healthy strong bulls turned with the herd May 15th till July 15th will bring calves from February 20th until April 22nd the next spring. The normal gestation period of a cow is 283 days. Cattlemen can control the time they wish their calves dropped."

Promise of a Better Tomorrow

Launched five years ago, Florida East Coast Railway's streamlined trains are an evidence of its desire to provide constantly improving transportation service.

Before the war these trains were making the East Coast of Florida an increasingly popular travel destination.

The Florida East Coast Railway placed orders for additional streamlined cars and Diesel locomotives, but the war has thus far prevented delivery of this equipment by the manufacturers.

Florida East Coast streamliners are today speeding essential war and military travel, saving time and handling more passengers in greater comfort than would otherwise be possible. These and other improvements have enabled the railroads to successfully take care of the greatest volume of traffic in their history.

This progressive spirit is a promise of still finer service tomorrow—service that will aid in promoting the growth of the East Coast of Florida in the future, just as it has done in the past.

Little Things about THE STARS

By GEORGE LILLEY

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Some literary people like to write early in the morning or late at night. Now here's a fellow who works 12 out of every 24 hours! Shy, nervous, Fred Allen, author of "Keep Up With the World," a tounding drama heard Wednesday nights (9 EWT) on the Blue network, plus the Collier magazine column of the "Freling Foster" who sleeps in catpits. To his 18-room Manhattan apartment (nine rooms turned into book-filled offices) came two secretaries in 12-hour shifts—one starting at two in the morning! It is not too much to expect that he is a fact-finder up his material. That's tough. Foster says he can check a fact in 22 days.

Fred Allen

His stories are beautiful.

For the first time in years, network radio has hired a new Broadway gossip—Ohio born (Bookford), 34-year-old Earl Wilson, whose Manhattan column, "It Happened Last Night," in the past year has spread papers from coast to coast. In characteristic "modesty," Walter Winchell calls Wilson "the best since Winchell himself first hit Broadway 15 years ago." But unlike Winchell, who is a stocky, Wilson doesn't look in costume. His forte—on a theme that often tempts editors—blue pencils—is feminine pulchritude. Toned down for the air, Wilson's broadcast, 15-minutes, is airing Sunday nights (10 EWT) over Mutual. Much sought after by the stars, Wilson, appearing as his guests, such as January 14 visitor Fred Allen.

VERY LITTLE THINGS

Fred Waring's "take" this fall for an eight-weeks' run with his orchestra at a New York theater was $200,000. That is the largest salary yet collected from a musical organization. Waring's Thursday night radio program, recently changed to a new hour (10 p.m., EWT) on the Blue, brings him another $2,000 weekly (over pay to his... Waring notes).

The Pyrene, Pa., boy is probably the richest hand-stander. Among runners-up are Horace Heidt (out of ballroom, real estate) and Abe Lyman (gown, vestments). Although a top name, Harry James, according to trade gossip, has to date comparatively little to show financially.

There's a studio conductor, Ray Block, who, although never listed among the famous, makes $100,000 a year handling nine network commercials.

Covered Dish Luncheon Held By W. S. C. S.

The Women's Society of Christian Service enjoyed a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Walter Hooker Wednesday with Mrs. Hugh Bratley serving as cohostess. Mrs. H. D. Beck was in charge of the program and gave a review of the study book, "The Indian in American Life." A report was given

BY WYNNE?

Ed Wynn, back in radio after an absence of seven years, is performing his new program, "Happy Island," a light fantasy, with complete stage set and costume. He has no eye to television, simply believes that a broadcast that looks itself can catch its own atmosphere and sound better over speakers. Isaiah Edwyn Leopold, 39, of the 800 hats and shoes, has started in radio-studio applause, fascial makeup, comedy commercials. January 15 his current sponsor switches "Happy Island" from Friday to a more favorable Monday night (8 EWT) spot on the Blue network—to see if the latest Wynn theory is worth the elaborate production effort and expense it entails.

Women's Club To Have Benefit Game Party At The Country Club

The Belle Glade Women's Club is planning a benefit game party at the Country Club of the Everglades on Friday night, March 16th at 8:15.

Bee Fleming, Chairman for this party is making a drive for advance sale of tickets at $1.00.

Bridge pinoche, a newly recognized game by the association experts is expected to be played by some of the old pinoche players.

Gin rummy, bridge and other games will also be indulged in by the visitors.

JUNIOR GROWERS

Awards for the fifth annual contest include a national championship of $500, four regional awards of $200, sectional scholarships of $100 and state awards.

Contest leaders urged early enrollment because a study course precedes the actual vegetable production by each contestant.

Entry blanks can be obtained by writing to Williams at Tallahassee or to the junior growers' advisory chairman, Professor Grant B. Snyder, head of the Department of Olericulture, 103 French Hall, Massachusetts State College, Amherst, Mass.

T. E. L. Class Meets At Mrs. Jones On Monday

The regular meeting of the T. E. L. class will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Luther Jones. A review on the study book, "Christ In The Fine Arts," will be given by Mrs. H. O. Earwood.

An announcement is being made that an all day prayer meeting will be held next Friday, March 9, at the First Baptist Church. Lunch will be served at noon by the members of the Women's Missionary Society.

CATTLE FATTENING INDUSTRY

From a modest beginning of a few steers here and there and spurred on by the needs of war, the population of animals on land to be fattened for the market grew to approximately 5,000 in the immediate vicinity of Belle Glade this present season.

2,000 head were fattened on Torry and Kreamer Islands during the summer and fall months, alone.

It is estimated that close to a hundred farmers have from half a dozen to 400 head for fattening.

The herd at the Experiment Station has grown from a small number of pure bred Red Devon to more than 200 which include a pure bred Brahman herd. Crossing these pure bred animals with Florida range cows in experiments is the objective of the station.

A number of farmers have recently brought in for breeding purposes prize winners.

There is a County Cattleman's Association and the formation of a cooperative for the purpose of establishing a packing plant is in the making.

Purchasers of large tracts by outside cowmen, as well as by Puerto Ricans indicate the impending importance of this as a beef breeding area.

Fifty to 60 bushels of corn twice yearly, sweet potatoes and Egyptian wheat varieties are promising results equivalent to the north and middle west as high grade beef producing for the market.

We are well on our way to producing millions of tons of beef now shipped into south Florida.

Let's Take This Word

... Apart!

If you've been misled by the word "premium" as applied to beer, you ought to know the real answer.

There are plenty of "premium quality" beers — JAX is one of the best of them. But premium quality is no excuse for premium prices because it costs only a wee bit more to make a great beer than it does to make an ordinary beer.

When you see the word "premium" applied to extra-priced beer, it simply means that the beer in question has had to be shipped a long distance and that the shipping costs have been so heavy that an extra charge has had to be added to the price.

If you are really a beer lover, you know that long distance travel doesn't do beer any good. The sooner you get it after it leaves the brewery, the better it tastes.

JAX, the Beer of Friendship, is never shipped great distances. That's why you don't have to pay a "premium price" for JAX. Its superb flavor is never impaired by long travel. That's why JAX always has such a full, fine, mellow tang.

So far as the word "premium" is concerned, just remember that it is usually a camouflage word to justify charging you more in order to pay shipping costs.
